FACES CHARGE OF A BRUTAL MURDER

who is charged with clubbing Benson to death on his homestead near Cereal, Alta., with putting a bullet through his heart to ensure fatal results and with later setting fire to Benson's shack to destroy all evidence of the brutal crime, the prosecution called the witnesses at the preliminary hearing before Col. The alleged murder was committed on May 2, 1912. Benson was an attorney at Braymer, Mo., before com-

Where the Money Went--A Statement of Obligations Made in 1912 and Handed on to This Year's Council to Finance

Since the last election campaign began a statement has been current that this year's council committed the city to approximately five millions more expenditure than they had provided the money for. This meant that of the nine millions borrowed by this year's council about five millions was needed to pay for expenditures placed upon the city by the 1912 council and which either completed or in process of completion. Mayor Short has handed out a detailed statement prepared by the secretary to the commissioners and verified by the auditors, as follows:

STATEMENT OF CASH EXPENDITURE
Over expenditure as shown by the published accounts $3,289,682.39
Expended in November and December, 1912 and contracted for in 1912, financed in 1913 1,438,030.45

Capital funds on hand 31st December, 1912, as per published accounts $2,021,161.90
Cash in Bank $215,641.19
Less Outstanding cheques $85,730.01
Overdrafts 96,884.18 182,614.19
There was also on hand the sum of $419,314 which was derived from collection of taxes and is therefore not to be brought into above figures, being revenue cash, and not capital cash.

"Capital Funds awaiting Capitalization," in other words "Over Expenditures" $3,289,682.39

This over expenditure was made possible by using the $2,021,161.90 raised for other purposes, and by $1,041,833 raised by means of Bills Payable, and the balance $1,041,833.

The Railway Commission proposed to order that holders of first class tickets shall be allowed to ride in tourist cars if there are no day coaches on the route. They should have the same privilege when the seats in the day coaches are all occupied.

The Dominion authorities are said to be after some parties who have been putting more water in butter than the law allows or necessity calls for. It is thought they catch and punish them. Forty cent butter is bad enough—sometimes in a double sense—but forty cent water is adding insult to injury.

Concerning Macdonald and Chateaugay it is in order to recall one plank in Borden's Halifax platform in which there is laid down as "an essential article of conservative policy."

More effective provision to punish bribery and corruption, to ensure thorough publicity as to expenditures by political organizations, to prohibit contributions thereto by corporations, associations, and unions, to provide for the hearing of election petitions and to prevent corruptive arrangements for the election of members of the House of Commons, to provide for a thorough investigation of electoral practices, and if necessary, to appoint an independent presiding officer charged with that duty, to simplify the procedure therefor, and to enforce the law as menaced.

The report that the new government dredge at Port Nelson had been wrecked having been officially denied, some of Mr. Borden's newspaper friends are venturing the fact that the dredge was taken out of the water intact as though this were as act of unusual merit on the part of the department concerned. Perhaps it is. From the other occurrence at Port Nelson, which have not been denied, it is doubtless a matter for wonder and public gratification that the dredge escaped the general wreck and ruin that seem to have marked the mismanagement of things at Port Nelson during the past summer.

The area under wheat in Alberta this year was 2,356 acres less than that of last year, according to the Provincial Department of Agriculture. It is an increase of 235,161 acres, and in that upon which barley was grown amounting to 131,643 acres. In so far as this indicates a tendency to abandon wheat-growing in stock raising, poultry raising and the production of dairy and poultry products, it reflects a recognition on the part of the farmer that the thing to produce on the farm is the thing for which there is most demand. It also indicates that a proportion of the farmers are getting in position to go into those branches which require more working capital than "wheat-crop," but which have fewer risks and more assurance of a crop every year.

From Virginia comes word that Premier Borden is much improved in health. This is good news. Friends and opponents alike will hope that he now feels strong enough to wrestle with the question of a permanent naval policy.

Montreal Daily Mail: "An Edmonton paper is conducting a 'circulation campaign,' the prizes offered being free railway fares. 'To Montreal and return.' They couldn't be given away without the return coupon."

The owners have offered to sell the city one-half of McKernan's lake for $75,000. The city already having several depressions which could be turned into lakes.

and not having the $75,000 to spare, the opportunity may have to be passed up.

The Navajo Indians in New Mexico have taken to the war-path, encamped on a mountain and defied the United States army. The Navajos are said to have acted bold in their veins. They evidently do not see why their relatives in old Mexico should be allowed to have all the fun in life.

Members of Parliament for Ottawa want the outside civil service in that city put under a commission. Having got jobs for as many of their friends as they can find jobs for, the members now perchance want a commission to discharge the unpleasant duty of telling the remainder that there are no jobs for them.

In the Supreme Court a man has been sentenced for attempted perjury. Two city detectives gave evidence on behalf of the prosecution. If this means that the conviction was the result of police activity, it is a hopeful sign. Let the good work go on. There is reason to think there is need of it going on vigorously.

The District Court has thrown out another appeal by the city against having to pay a month's salary to a police officer discharged without sufficient cause and without the benefit of a hearing. The city has to pay the costs of the appeal. It would be cheaper, as well as more creditable, to treat the members of the police force as men entitled to justice and fair play.

The Toronto Mail and Empire argues the need of a "general amnesty" in order to bring the churches "for the purpose of awakening human consciousness." The need of the "crusade" is illustrated in the adjoining column where charged with that duty, to simplify the procedure therefor, and to enforce the law as menaced.

The report that the new government dredge at Port Nelson had been wrecked having been officially denied, some of Mr. Borden's newspaper friends are venturing the fact that the dredge was taken out of the water intact as though this were as act of unusual merit on the part of the department concerned. Perhaps it is. From the other occurrence at Port Nelson, which have not been denied, it is doubtless a matter for wonder and public gratification that the dredge escaped the general wreck and ruin that seem to have marked the mismanagement of things at Port Nelson during the past summer.

Montreal Gazette: "Sir Louis 'Gouin in his speech on the 'dress in the Quebec Legislature' defended the demand of the 'Provinces for more money from the federal treasury. He said: 'ground that in the treasury there was a surplus of $50,000,000. Finance Ministers at Ottawa would mean a way of 'presenting the public account, 'that gives this surplus myth a 'seeming reality. Their comfort 'in these days of big demands 'for money is to be found in the 'greater if they would take 'new line, and when in a 'they spend all or more than 'they collect, say plainly: 'I am sorry, but I must say 'White to say something. 'The surplus last year a fact or a fiction?'"

Premier Borden was a speaker a few days ago at a banquet in New York. He touched on the subject of reciprocity, and is reported by the usually sane and accurate Herald in these words: "In regard to reciprocity between this country and Canada, Mr. Borden said that the Canadians had no objections to such a treaty, and that Canada felt that she had done her share toward it. He said that he regretted that it had not come to pass, but he believed, Canada will continue to do so."

A prisoner escaped from two detectives at the door of the police station and made his getaway in a shower of revolver bullets. The police to be noted that the detective department caught somebody. If they can round up a man who is wanted in connection with a cheque-fraud campaign, there is a chance they may some day stumble across one of the long-wanted murderers, or fall in with the big gang that has been operating in the city for some time.

The man arrested succeeded in escaping is a not unimportant feature of the case, but one that is more or less liable to occur in the best regulated police families, and one which would not be charged upon a generally efficient force. That a detective carried his revolver at the fleeing party, but into the windows of a neighboring business house, is a feature which does not speak well of the manner of the officer, and affords a solemn warning to the public that they had better keep to the woods while the detective squad is in action.

Ottawa people are charged $1.10 per thousand feet for gas. The men in control of the gas plant are said to be also the owners of the electric light and power plant, and the high cost of gas is claimed to be due to their unwillingness to make the gas works compete too strongly with the electric plant. The city authorities have been considering the installation of a municipal gas plant, and have had a report on the project. Its estimate is that a plant capable of manufacturing 70,000,000 feet of gas a year could be installed at the cost of $1,000,000, and that the cost of gas to the consumer would be 85 cents per thousand, on the basis of the amount now likely to be sold in the city.

Cost Engineer Bowness thinks the city could save $50,000 per year by doing its own scavenging and using the refuse as fuel in a power plant. It might save coal to utilize the refuse for power development, but that the city could do the scavenging for money that the contractors are another question. The city once did its own scavenging and went out of the business because it could not do the work as well as the contractors. Whether the civic organization has been brought down to the point where it can do the work for something less than the cost to the contractor, the contractor's margin of profit is the whole argument. The affirmative will require some proving.

Montreal Gazette: "Sir Louis 'Gouin in his speech on the 'dress in the Quebec Legislature' defended the demand of the 'Provinces for more money from the federal treasury. He said: 'ground that in the treasury there was a surplus of $50,000,000. 'The surplus last year a fact or a fiction?'"

Premier Borden was a speaker a few days ago at a banquet in New York. He touched on the subject of reciprocity, and is reported by the usually sane and accurate Herald in these words: "In regard to reciprocity between this country and Canada, Mr. Borden said that the Canadians had no objections to such a treaty, and that Canada felt that she had done her share toward it. He said that he regretted that it had not come to pass, but he believed, Canada will continue to do so."

A prisoner escaped from two detectives at the door of the police station and made his getaway in a shower of revolver bullets. The police to be noted that the detective department caught somebody. If they can round up a man who is wanted in connection with a cheque-fraud campaign, there is a chance they may some day stumble across one of the long-wanted murderers, or fall in with the big gang that has been operating in the city for some time.

The man arrested succeeded in escaping is a not unimportant feature of the case, but one that is more or less liable to occur in the best regulated police families, and one which would not be charged upon a generally efficient force. That a detective carried his revolver at the fleeing party, but into the windows of a neighboring business house, is a feature which does not speak well of the manner of the officer, and affords a solemn warning to the public that they had better keep to the woods while the detective squad is in action.

Ottawa people are charged $1.10 per thousand feet for gas. The men in control of the gas plant are said to be also the owners of the electric light and power plant, and the high cost of gas is claimed to be due to their unwillingness to make the gas works compete too strongly with the electric plant. The city authorities have been considering the installation of a municipal gas plant, and have had a report on the project. Its estimate is that a plant capable of manufacturing 70,000,000 feet of gas a year could be installed at the cost of $1,000,000, and that the cost of gas to the consumer would be 85 cents per thousand, on the basis of the amount now likely to be sold in the city.

Cost Engineer Bowness thinks the city could save $50,000 per year by doing its own scavenging and using the refuse as fuel in a power plant. It might save coal to utilize the refuse for power development, but that the city could do the scavenging for money that the contractors are another question. The city once did its own scavenging and went out of the business because it could not do the work as well as the contractors. Whether the civic organization has been brought down to the point where it can do the work for something less than the cost to the contractor, the contractor's margin of profit is the whole argument. The affirmative will require some proving.

Montreal Gazette: "Sir Louis 'Gouin in his speech on the 'dress in the Quebec Legislature' defended the demand of the 'Provinces for more money from the federal treasury. He said: 'ground that in the treasury there was a surplus of $50,000,000. Finance Ministers at Ottawa would mean a way of 'presenting the public account, 'that gives this surplus myth a 'seeming reality. Their comfort 'in these days of big demands 'for money is to be found in the 'greater if they would take 'new line, and when in a 'they spend all or more than 'they collect, say plainly: 'I am sorry, but I must say 'White to say something. Marked on the Side

A crowd gathered has been endeavoring to prove that the streets of Ireland are one of the most treacherous of Israel. No doubt Ulster will be excluded from this also.

One of the neighbors who was recently in a motor car smash did not think that their "my way" was a long bill, and the car was going very fast. There was a loud crash, and the doctor said, "Sit up and take this."

There was an excitement on a homestead at Tealville the other day, when a black bear appeared in the yard, and charged at the house. When it departed it took with it a chicken, and two charges of mail shot from the only gun available.

New crossings have been constructed in some of the streets in Henna, and it is claimed that they will be a great help to the traffic. "On the plan as the walls of Nubia." Nothing is so good for Henna these days as the traffic which is passing over the new crossings.

Forshodown's coming event, a "kitchen shower" was precipitated in the Delburne district the other day, and regret have been expressed that a rolling pin did not arrive on time, but will come later. Perhaps this cautious kitchen utensil was afraid of being held up for exceeding the speed limit.

A Saskatchewan paper alleges that one of the local homesteaders purchased a revolver for $100, and that he had used it to shoot a cow. The paper also alleged that the man had used the revolver to shoot a cow.

When the constable entered a provincial hotel one day last week with a dog, he made a mistake. The dog was for the door, and a two-minute marathon ensued. The constable was the victor, but a rather unpleasant encounter was the result.

In a neighboring town a man who was alleged to be addicted to the cup that infuriates, has just been put away for three months in a chain-gang. Everybody has heard of the man who called for a corker before he drew his last breath, but there is no reason to believe that anyone would call a rarer in order to "cut out" the drink habit.

The Red Deer police have been making a determined effort to put down gambling in the town, and the News says the chief will leave no stone unturned. He has been told that he can lay hands on for gambling for the town, and that he will be able to do so.

THE KEINWORTH'S AGREEMENT

While the city administration is busy explaining the loss to the ratepayers of three hundred thousand dollars through bungling in the Keinworth's negotiations, the conspicuous lack of the entire matter is that the public is unable to put its finger upon any one man and say, "You, sir, are directly and individually responsible for three hundred thousand dollars we are out of pocket." From the labored explanations of the mayor, and other public leaders who have come to his rescue in this hour of reckoning, it would appear that nearly everybody in the city hall had something to do with those negotiations at some stage of the game.

The Keinworth's negotiation is merely a glaring example of occurrences which have constantly characterized our municipal affairs. Shifted right down to the bottom, lack of individual and specific responsibility is the cause for this condition of affairs. Eliminate the cause and you have the cure. To attempt to find a cure without removing the cause would avail nothing as has been amply proven in the past.

Under Elective Commission Government, embodying the Initiative, the Referendum and the Recall, such as is advocated by W. J. McNamara—and which is stoutly opposed by Mayor Shaw—there would be no one to whom the blame for the loss of these several hundred thousand dollars; and such individual could not dodge, shift the responsibility or summon others to begot the atmosphere.

Big Meetings Tonight

Tonight a big public meeting will be held in the Oliver Public School, Seventeenth street, when a full and thorough discussion of Edmonton's civic life, the causes and the remedy, will be presented by W. J. McNamara, the Candidate for Mayor, aldermanic candidates and other speakers. The tax rate is 16 mills on an increased assessed value will be explained; an explanation for the fact that 1912 central administration cost over $14 on the $100; why it will be more for 1913 will be shown, and a remedy for the condition will be offered. Big meetings will be held also this evening at the Westmont School, new Campbell block, Alberta Ave., and at the Walterdale school house, South Side.

VERDICT OF SUICIDE IN LEDUC TRAGEDY

Coroner's Jury Brings in Verdict in Inquest Into Death of Fred Grant.

(From Evening Edition)
 The coroner's jury at the inquest held on the body of Fred Grant, the farmer, who was killed by a train on the body of Mrs. J. P. Grant, his daughter, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head, brought in a verdict of suicide, and a recommendation that the body be buried in the cemetery.

There was no evidence given of the attack made by Grant on the woman and child, as there was no one present at the time and the medical officers, both Mrs. Flood and Grant, were not seriously injured. It will be some time before they are able to give the details of the case.

Town Constable Willis told Coroner's jury that Grant was on the farm he had found the body of Grant on a straw pile, and on entering the house, saw Mrs. Flood and her daughter lying on the floor unconscious. Coroner's jury and agent accompanied Willis, corroborated the evidence, and the jury brought in a verdict of suicide.

Dr. Woods, who is in attendance on Mrs. Flood and her daughter, stated that the two patients are doing as well as can be expected, but that it will be several weeks before they recover from the wounds. Mrs. Flood is now in a fair state of recovery, but her skull is not fractured as was first reported. The doctor said that the wounds in her shoulders are not very serious, but her body is very badly racked and she is suffering greatly from shock.

ALBERTA SHERIFFS CONFERENCE

Discussing Various Matters of General Interest—Banquet Tuesday Night

Alberta sheriffs are in convention here today. A meeting was held yesterday at the Parliament Buildings in the afternoon the sheriffs were driven around the city in automobiles. The new railway lines to the provincial department of public works, while later in the afternoon they visited the office of Sheriff Robertson, Edmonton. The meeting was held at the Hotel Windsor, and the banquet was held at the Selkirk Hotel at nine o'clock.

Present present yesterday were: Sheriff Robertson, Edmonton; Sheriff D. Hunt, Inspector of legal affairs for the province. Sheriff Campbell, Medicine Hat, was the only absentee. The sheriffs discussed the various problems of the province, and changes suggested in order to improve the carrying on of their office. The new railway lines being opened up throughout the province make it desirable that there should be some re-arrangement of districts, which has been made.

Hon. C. B. Mitchell, minister of public works, addressed the sheriffs in morning, and an afternoon they were met by Attorney-General W. A. G. The first business was to hear how they should be paid, and of how and whether the sheriffs' offices should be improved. There were among the questions discussed.

Fine Wrist Watch Among Gifts of Miss Wilson at White House Wedding Today

The Bulletin Will Also Give Wrist Watches to the Six Leading Contestants in the Voting Contest. The Second Contestants Will be Awarded Solid Gold Seal Rings and Gold Bar Pins go to the Third Six

Miss Jessie Wilson, the daughter of President Wilson, who is to be married today in the White House at Washington, received a number of gifts from the prominent Edmonton automobilists and few pieces of jewelry in the varied array of gifts were more admired. The members of Congress selected a beautiful jewelry for the bride, which was sent to her as a remembrance from the representative. Speaker Champ Clark and his daughter selected this gift at the request of the representatives and all Washington decided to have declared it the most artistic piece of jewelry a bride ever received in the United States capital. A number of handsome brooches were also given to Miss Wilson.

It is customary in the United States for government officials to give gifts to the daughter of a president who marries strictly properly. The president will be recalled that when Miss Wilson became Mrs. Longworth she received hundreds of gifts of jewelry, including the famous black pearl necklace sent to her by a Philippine satrap. The president of the United States cannot accept gifts of jewelry from foreign representatives and public officials. When a president's daughter marries the foreign representatives take occasion to shower upon the bride gifts which they might otherwise present to her father.

Consequently the gifts at a White House wedding always attract very great attention and after looking over the list of attractive gifts the Bulletin decided to follow the lead of the friends of Miss Wilson and her father and select wrist watches, lavenders and rings as special gifts in its circulation contest.

Six contestants who lead this week in the amount of money they turn in for their votes will be honored with wrist watches. The second and six in the work for the week will be given their choice of gold seal or cameo rings, and the contestants who make up the third group of six will be given gold bar pins.

All gifts as cash cars. In all these election special gifts for contest workers may be seen at Ash Bros. beautiful jewelry store, 117 Jasper street, which is usually attractive in its Canadian decorations. The entire value of the gifts in the Bulletin prize distribution exceeds $10,000. Contestants turning in their votes for the automobile and other prizes in the election contest will be given a special prize on December 2. Consequently there is every reason for workers to turn in as many subscriptions as possible this week and earn one of the wrist watches.

The Bulletin is anxious to get recent pictures of all the winners in the contest and has selected the A. T. Building studio, 218 Jasper avenue West, to be official photographer. All contestants are urged to call at the contest department at one and get a picture of them, to be sitting at the studio. No charge will be made for the sitting.

As an added special prize for the three weeks automobiles have been given to the winners of the contest. The prize is a beautiful motor truck between the fashionable east-end districts and downtown Edmonton. During that time the officers have collected 129 slices of dynamite, apparently gathered systematically along the road. Last Saturday they found another lot in the boulevard and arrested Herman Ledman, alleged to be a dynamite thief. They would make of a contractor's magazine, from which they declare the dynamite was stolen.

Announcement will be made in the Bulletin tomorrow of the winners of the six lavenders offered as special prizes for the best work last week. It looks now as though four contestants outside of Edmonton and two contestants in the city will be the winners. Only one contestant made an exceptionally good showing for the week.

Persons who desire to enter this competition now and save one of the special prizes this week have just as good an opportunity as any to get votes on the automobile and other prizes in the election contest. Full details of the contest will be found in an advertisement in this issue. Inquiries concerning the contest should be sent to the contest manager of the Bulletin. He telephone is 1712 and his office is on the second floor of the Bulletin building.

DYNAMITE ON BOULEVARD

Vanish in Pittsburgh Stowed Explosive Along Widely Used Motor Truck.

Pittsburgh, Penna., Nov. 24.—The police here it is known today that for three weeks automobiles have been thronging with dynamite in the drive along Grant Boulevard, the favorite motor truck between the fashionable east-end districts and downtown Edmonton. During that time the officers have collected 129 slices of dynamite, apparently gathered systematically along the road. Last Saturday they found another lot in the boulevard and arrested Herman Ledman, alleged to be a dynamite thief. They would make of a contractor's magazine, from which they declare the dynamite was stolen.

STEAMSHIP SPECIAL.

The assembly special train which the Canadian Northern railway has from Western Canada and which left Edmonton Nov. 16th proved an unqualified success, over 250 being on the train when it left Winnipeg. The train ran smoothly and the passengers who travelled on it have expressed complete satisfaction with the service and the comfort of the tourist sleeping cars.

The service and the comfort of the tourist sleeping cars will be leaving Edmonton and district on the evening of November 27th connecting with numerous steamers sailing from St. John and Halifax.

This affords a very comfortable way to get to the seaboard without changing and the tourist cars enable passengers to have comfortable berth accommodation at only half the rate charged in standard sleeping cars.

In addition to day coaches and tourist sleeping cars, there is a dining car and three meals are served at very reasonable rates.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

At the annual meeting of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, held in London on October 24th, Chairman Smith reported that on the 7-17-1286 miles west of Winnipeg and 360 miles east of Prince Rupert. The intervening 220 miles is to be completed by June of next year. The line between Fort William and Edmonton were now 225,000 a week, against half that amount six months ago.

NO TRUCE AT PHILLIPS.

Milo T. Berg, alias Phillips, who made the sensational getaway from several detectives being taken to his custody on Saturday night, has not yet been found, despite the fact that a detective has been on the trail ever since. It seems to have vanished after the escape, for no clue as to his whereabouts can be obtained.

Chief Carpenter, questioned on the matter this morning, had not much to say. He held that the man was now under arrest, but was merely a suspect, and such was not to be expected that Detective Smith would try to shoot the man. The man was merely to frighten Berg and make him stop.

There is no doubt, according to the detective story, that the firing of the shots had the effect of making Berg escape. But the right did not get the way it was thought it would. Instead of stopping, he ran all the faster, and after turning the corner of the street he disappeared.

Berg is wanted on a charge of passing worthless checks. It is known that he is highly skilled in the art of passing worthless checks, and that he is well known in Calgary, and all concerned are anxious to get him at the fact that he slipped so easily.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

Petty thefts were the order of the day at the police court this morning. John Hildes was sentenced to a month's imprisonment for stealing a pair of shoes. Henry Venturi was allowed out on suspended sentence after pleading guilty to a charge of stealing a number of empty bottles from the rear of the Yale hotel, and Ram Constant was remanded on a charge of stealing $25 from a man in the Kittington dance hall.

John Hildes was fined $5, and costs for not having his auto license lighted after dark and the municipal company were fined $25 and costs for not having a proper number plate on their car.

Notice of appeal was given in the latter case. The representative of the company stated that he had applied for the number plate, and that he had put a cash bond on it in the meantime, which was assured would meet requirements.

John Hildes was sentenced to fifteen days' imprisonment on a charge of stealing a pair of shoes.

POULTRY FANCIES AT CALGARY.
The Edmonton poultry breeders are expecting to make a good exhibit in Calgary this week at the first provincial poultry show. Over 150 birds have been entered. From all accounts the birds are looking very fine for the season of the year. Some of the exhibitors are W. B. West, J. C. Langworthy, H. L. C. Christman, H. B. Hunter, W. McE. Moore, J. A. Pickering and others. From last summer these records their birds will not doubt make a good showing.

After attending the Calgary show this week, all birds come back to Edmonton for the big show to be held in the old Presbyterian church, corner Third and Jasper on December 2nd to 5th. Over 1,000 entries have been received up to the present for this show and the committee in charge of the biggest show ever held by the Dominion Poultry and Poultry Stock Association. In order that no intending exhibitor may be disappointed of a chance to show, the show will be held at a meeting held last evening decided to reopen. As, however, the secretary will be away from the city, it is understood that all such entries must be sent in by mail and accompanied by a National Ticket. Positively no entries will be received at the secretary's office.

At this year's show one of the special features will be the exhibit of dressed poultry for which 75 entries have been received. The commercial end of the industry is receiving special attention from the association in fact the prize offered are the best offered in any city in Western Canada. The executive committee are planning on holding an auction sale of the dressed poultry exhibited so every housewife in the city will have an opportunity of securing exceptionally fine poultry for Sunday dinner. The date of the sale will be announced through these columns later.

There has been a lot of prophesying as to the probable end of eggs and poultry in the near future which, it is doubtful will become a reality, simply because the produce dealers have to import their supplies from the east. In view of these facts, every one should make a determined effort to patronize the coming poultry show and encourage the industry in Northern Alberta in order to build up our province to produce sufficient stock to supply the local trade.

Remember the date, December 2, 3, 4, 5, in the old Presbyterian church.
